Introduction

New Round-Up 4 English Grammar Practice combines games and fun with serious, systematic grammar practice. It is ideal for young learners in the preliminary stages of English language learning.

Students see grammar points clearly presented in colourful boxes and tables. They practise grammar through lively, highly illustrated games and oral and writing activities.

New Round-Up is especially designed for different students studying English in different ways.

It can be used:

- in class with a coursebook. Students do both oral work – in pairs and in groups – and written work in New Round-Up.
- after class. The 'write-in' activities are ideal for homework. Students can practise what they have learned in the classroom.
- on holidays for revision. New Round-Up has clear instructions and simple grammar boxes, so students can study at home without a teacher.

The New Round-Up Teacher's Guide includes a full answer key, quizzes, tests plus answer keys, and audio scripts of progress check listening tasks.

Question Tags

- Question tags are short questions put at the end of a statement. We use them, not to ask for information but for confirmation of or agreement to our statement.
He can drive, can't he?
- We form question tags with an auxiliary verb and a personal pronoun (I, you, he, it, etc.). A question tag has the same auxiliary verb as in the statement. If there is no auxiliary verb in the statement, we use do, does or did accordingly.
She is sleeping, isn't she?
He came too late, didn't he?
- A positive statement is followed by a negative question tag and a negative statement by a positive question tag.
He likes apples, doesn't he?
She doesn't like apples, does she?
He never complains, does he?
- If we are sure of what we are asking and we don't expect an answer, the voice goes down (falling intonation). If we are not sure and we expect an answer, the voice goes up (rising intonation).
She is pretty, isn't she? (sure)
She is a journalist, isn't she? (not sure)

Look at all the dust in here! It looks as if this room hasn't been cleaned for a month!

Well, don't blame me! I was only hired a week ago.

The Passive is formed with the appropriate tense of the verb to be + past participle.

	Active Voice	Passive Voice
Present Simple	He delivers letters.	Letters are delivered .
Past Simple	He delivered the letters.	The letters were delivered .
Present Perfect	He has delivered the letters.	The letters have been delivered .
Past Perfect	He had delivered the letters.	The letters had been delivered .
Present Continuous	He is delivering the letters.	The letters are being delivered .
Past Continuous	He was delivering the letters.	The letters were being delivered .
Future Simple	He will deliver the letters.	The letters will be delivered .
Infinitive	He has to deliver the letters.	The letters have to be delivered .
Modal + be + past part.	He must deliver the letters.	The letters must be delivered .

The Passive is used:

- when the agent (= the person who does the action) is unknown, unimportant or obvious from the context.
My car was stolen. (We don't know who stole it.)
This church was built in 1815. (unimportant agent)
He has been arrested. (obviously by the police)
- to make more polite or formal statements.
The car hasn't been cleaned. (more polite)
(You haven't cleaned the car. – less polite)
- when the action is more important than the agent, as in processes, instructions, events, reports, headlines, news items, and advertisements.
30 people were killed in the earthquake.
- to put emphasis on the agent.
The new library will be opened by the Queen.

Changing from Active into Passive

- The object of the active verb becomes the subject in the new sentence.

	Subject	Verb	Object	(agent)
Active	Picasso	Painted	that picture.
Passive	That picture	was painted		by Picasso.

- The active verb changes into a passive form and the subject of the active verb becomes the agent. The agent is introduced with by or it is omitted. After modal verbs (will, can, must, have to, should, may, ought to) we use be + past participle.

You can use the machine for cutting bread. ⇨ The machine can be used for cutting bread.

- We use by + agent to say who or what carries out the action. We use with + instrument / material / ingredient to say what the agent used. A cake was made by Tina. It was made with eggs, flour and sugar.
- We put the agent (= the person who does the action) into the passive sentence only if it adds information. When the agent is unknown, unimportant or obvious it is omitted. Agents such as people (in general), they, somebody, etc. are omitted.

Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone.

The telephone was invented by Alexander Graham Bell. (The agent is not omitted because it adds information.)

Somebody pushed him. He was pushed (~~by somebody~~). (Unknown agent is omitted.)

The police arrested him. He was arrested (~~by the police~~). (Obvious agent is omitted.)

Defining / Non-defining relative clauses

- A defining relative clause gives necessary information and is essential to the meaning of the main sentence. The clause is not put in commas. Who, which and that can be omitted when they are the object of the relative clause.

People who smoke damage their health. The book (which) my friend wrote is very interesting.

- A non-defining relative clause gives extra information and it is not essential to the meaning of the main sentence. In non-defining relative clauses the relative pronouns cannot be omitted. That cannot replace who or which. The clause is put in commas.

Mr Brown, who lives next door, went to Australia last week.

Direct speech: She said to me, "I am very tired."

Reported Statements

- To report statements we use a reporting verb (say, tell, advise, explain, promise, etc.) followed by a that-clause. In spoken English that may be omitted.
- Pronouns and possessive adjectives change according to the meaning.

Direct speech: He said, "I can't fix it myself."
 Reported speech: He said he couldn't fix it himself.

- Certain words change as follows :

Direct speech	this / these	here	come
Reported speech	that / those	there	go

Note that:
 can changes to could will changes to would may changes to might must changes to had to

"This is my book," he said. He said that was his book.

- When the reporting verb is in the past, the verb tenses change as follows:

Direct speech	Reported speech
Present Simple "I want to go to bed early," she said.	Past Simple She said she wanted to go to bed early.
Present Continuous "She's speaking to Joe," he said.	Past Continuous He said she was speaking to Joe.
Present Perfect "I've bought you some flowers," she said.	Past Perfect She said she had bought me some flowers.
Past Simple "He lost all the money," she said.	Past Perfect She said he had lost all the money.

When there is no question word in direct questions, if or whether is used in Reported questions. Pronouns, possessive adjectives, tenses, time expressions, etc. change as in statements.
