The Tomatina

The Tomatina is a huge tomato fight. It happens in Buñol, Spain, on the last Wednesday of every August. The week before, there is music, parades, dancing and fireworks. On Wednesday at 10 a.m., officials put thousands of tomatoes in the town square. They fire a water cannon, and people start throwing the tomatoes at each other. For safety, participants must squash the tomatoes before throwing them. They should also wear protective goggles and gloves. After one hour, the water cannon fires again. Everyone stops throwing tomatoes and the clean-up begins. The Tomatina has been a tradition since the mid-1940s, but nobody knows why. Some say that it began after someone played a joke on a bad musician.
