How the course works

English for Everyone is designed for people who want to teach themselves the English language. Like all language courses, it covers the core skills: grammar, vocabulary, pronunciation, listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Unlike in other courses, the skills are taught and practiced as visually as possible, using images and graphics to help you understand and remember. The practice book is packed with exercises designed to reinforce the lessons you have learned in the course book. Work through the units in order, making full use of the audio available on the website and app.

COURSE BOOK

PRACTICE BOOK

Unit number The book is divided into units. Each practice book unit tests the language taught in the course book unit with the same number.

Practice points Every unit begins with a summary of the key practice points.

26 Activities in progress

Use the present perfect continuous to talk about ongoing activities in the past. Use "for" and "since" to talk about the length or starting point of an activity.

To: Ben Jones

Subject: Life down under

Hi Ben,

You asked me how I came to Australia. I used to be a nurse in London. Life was very stressful. I almost always worked evenings and weekends. I hardly ever saw my friends and I was always tired. Then I saw an advertisement for nurses to work in Australia.

I applied and I got the job. I was so excited! I have been here for six years and life is great. I now work in a children's hospital. I sometimes have to work evenings or weekends, but it's not all the time. Most days I finish at 8pm.

I miss my family and friends, so I regularly email or video call them. My family visits once a year and every two years I go back to Britain.

All the best,

Bobby

POSTED SATURDAY, APRIL 3

About me

I'm a fashion writer and I'm working in Paris this summer. I write about the latest trends and what's new in fashion. I love my job because women's fashion is my passion! Today I'm browsing the stores on the Rue de Passy.

My style this season

It's summer, and the colors for this season are yellow, orange, and red. These are the colors that all the top designers are using this month. My favorite collection this season is by Donna Maxine. I'm wearing a short orange dress from her summer collection with a chic red belt by Rooster. She also has a fabulous range of skinny denim jeans in pale yellow, orange, and green. You can wear all of them with any of her stylish cropped cotton cardigans in a range of eight colors. This summer is all about color! I'm also looking at her gorgeous sandal collection in a range of pastel colors to complete the look!

Summer Story

James Young

The best thing about summer is the warm weather and the long days. There are so many interesting things to do.

As a family, we quite enjoy doing different things every year, and last summer we went on a three-day boat trip along the river. The weather was fabulous and we had an amazing time. One day we stopped at Stratford and explored the town. I was surprised how pretty it is. We really enjoyed exploring the charming old streets and taking photographs of the old houses. We all loved having picnics by the river in the afternoon. We had barbecues every day, too. I really don't like cooking, but I absolutely loved barbecuing. Luckily, it didn't rain once, which was very surprising. And I was amazed at how easily I learned to pilot a boat.

I really loved living on a boat and we'll definitely be doing it again next year. I'd recommend a boat trip to everyone.

For new parents

When you have your first baby you have no idea how much stuff you will need. The first things to buy of course are a crib and a stroller. These will be your two most expensive items. You should keep your baby's room clean and organized so that you can find things easily. Put the changing mat on a table or dresser near the cot. And keep the diapers and baby wipes here, too. You'll need a lot of them! Not everyone wants to use a pacifier with their baby, but some parents find them useful. There's no right or wrong answer. But one thing I think is an absolute necessity, and that of course, is a teddy bear. Every baby needs a teddy bear!

POSTED FRIDAY, AUGUST 28
TWO WEEKS IN ROME

I've been living in Rome for two weeks now and I absolutely love it. I've been renting a small apartment with two friends from work, and we're going to stay for two more weeks. We've met some great people and I've made a lot of new friends. I've visited all the famous sites of course. My favorite is the Piazza Navona and the Trevi Fountain. I've been studying Italian in a private language school. I only go twice a week, but I've learned a lot already. One of my favorite things about Rome is the food. But the problem is that I've been eating so much pasta I've put on pounds! Anyway, I've been talking to my parents this morning and I said I'd post some photos online for them. So, here they are!

Hi Becky,

I've had such a terrible morning. There was an accident at the train station so they canceled my train! I missed the 7:45 bus and I was too impatient to wait for the next one, so I decided to drive. But there was construction, which caused 30 minute delays. When I got into town, there was nowhere to park, and I was late for work! It's totally unacceptable that there is never anywhere to park in this city! I can't wait to get home!

My Job

Welcome to my blog about my summer job. This year I am working at a campsite in the south of France. I have to clean the tents and prepare them for new guests. People come from all over Europe to camp here. I hate doing the cleaning. But I like doing the kids' clubs for the children. We play games and go to the beach. I also like doing wine and cheese evenings for the parents. I buy wine from the local vineyard and French cheese from the store. I'm working here until the middle of September. Then I will go back to college.

Hi Vicky,
I hope you are well. I am writing this email with my left hand because my right arm hurts. I went to the doctor this morning and he thinks my right wrist might be broken. I fell on my arm when I was playing tennis yesterday and could have broken it then.
I have to go to the hospital this afternoon for an x-ray. I might have to wait because it is a big hospital. My friend had to wait two hours last year when he broke his arm. My sister is going to give me a ride to the hospital.
I would write more, but it is really slow using only one hand.

SAVE MONEY

Here are five easy ways to save money

First, make a list of what you earn and your costs. You need to know exactly how much money you can spend, and you need to spend less than you earn! If you want to save money, don't buy everything new. Buy used things online. It's much cheaper and it can be fun. If you really want to buy something new, wait for 10 days. If you still want it at the end of 10 days, then buy it. After 10 days you probably won't remember what it was you wanted. If you go out to work, take your lunch. Don't buy it in town. It's an easy way to save a lot of money. If you want to see your friends, invite them to your house for dinner. It's cheaper than going to a restaurant and you can ask your friends to bring the dessert. And when you are at home, think about your fuel bills. When you leave a room, turn off the lights!

Subject: Synopsis of sales meeting

Hi all,
 At this month's meeting, Helena, the Sales Director, set us a target of a 15 percent increase in profits by the end of the year. So now we need to give priority to online sales. Jackson is going to give some thought to this. I've asked him to submit a report at the next meeting. From next month, the sales team will hold weekly meetings to review figures and set new goals if necessary. I'll hold talks with my senior staff members on a regular basis so that they can update me. I know that my team can set a precedent for the rest of the company. It's going to be a great year. Great job, everyone!

Unexpected Encounter

CHAPTER 1

It was a typical day in the little Canadian town. People were shopping in the stores and children were laughing and running up and down the sidewalk. The sun was shining brightly and the air was heavy with the smell of wild flowers. There wasn't a cloud in the sky. Alice Goodson was sitting on a bench across from the supermarket. She was waiting for her mother to come out of the store.

Suddenly the sound of laughter changed to screams. People started running in all directions. "It's a bear! It's a bear!" cried a little boy. And sure enough, a large black bear was slowly walking across the sidewalk toward Alice. Luckily, at that very moment, police officer Tom Hudson was driving into town...

COLORFUL LUXOR

Luxor is an ancient city, full of color and astonishing sites. While I was staying there, I visited the ancient temple of Karnak. What a fascinating place! Much of the temple is still intact.

On day two, I stayed in a small hotel near the Valley of the Kings. While I was staying there, I visited the tomb of Rameses IX. While I was traveling back to my hotel, I saw a group of children. They were playing soccer next to one of the tombs. It was a bizarre sight to see this mix of ancient and modern.

On my last day, I visited the exotic "souk" in Luxor. This is the Egyptian market. It wasn't as touristy as I expected. And while I was shopping, I stopped at a small café. I drank hibiscus tea and ate dates. It was absolutely delicious! I had a fabulous time, and would love to visit Luxor again.

Leakage from oil tanker wreaks havoc on marine life

An oil tanker was caught in a violent storm off the Florida coast last weekend. The oil tanker was on its way to Mexico when it was thrown onto its side by huge waves and powerful winds. Eighteen crew were rescued by the emergency services late on Saturday night and they were taken to the hospital to be checked. During the weekend thousands of gallons of oil were spilled into the ocean. On Monday morning, hundreds of birds were rescued from the beach by volunteers. The birds were covered in oil and many of them were dying. Thousands of dead fish were found in the sea and on the beach. This is an environmental disaster on a huge scale.

CURE FOR SMALLPOX

How Edward Jenner accidentally discovered the world's first vaccine

In the late 18th century, an English doctor called Edward Jenner wanted to find a cure for smallpox. Smallpox was a serious disease that killed a lot of people every year. Jenner noticed that if you had had cowpox, which was a similar but less serious disease, you didn't catch smallpox. In 1796, he did an experiment to prove his theory. He gave cowpox to a little boy by infecting a small cut on his arm. After the little boy had recovered, Jenner infected him again with smallpox. The little boy never became ill with smallpox and Jenner decided it was because the cowpox had protected him. The little boy's name was James Phipps and he had received the first vaccination in the world.

Subject: Henry's hiking adventure

Hi Lilah,
Did you hear about Henry's adventure last weekend? He'd arranged to go hiking in the mountains with his friend Joe. Just as he was leaving, his phone rang. It was Joe saying he couldn't come, because someone had crashed into his car not long before. As soon as they heard the news, Henry's friends said he shouldn't go. But Henry decided to go anyway.
Shortly after setting off, Henry realized he had lost his compass. He stopped at a store to buy a new one. Not long after he set off, it started to get cloudy and rain. By the time Henry had walked for two hours, he could hardly see in front of him. A few moments earlier he had been sure of the way, but now his new compass wasn't working and he was lost. Consequently, he called the mountain rescue. By the time they arrived, he was soaked and cold. They told him he'd had a lucky escape.
See you soon.
