WORKING WITH ANIMALS

A lot of young people work because they need money. But Laura does her weekend job because she loves it. She works as a helper at a zoo.

Laura cleans the animals' sleeping areas every day, and helps prepare their food. Laura says, 'The elephants are wonderful. They're very intelligent. I love the monkeys too, but you must remember that they are wild animals, so you need to be careful! People think they're very friendly, but in fact they're quite aggressive, and they've bitten some of my friends. Monkey bites hurt!'

Laura loves spending time with the animals. 'In some ways, animals are like people,' she says. 'We've got two elephants here, and they're completely different characters. One is very moody, and the other is friendly and very patient.'
