The majority of us want to have safe, peaceful jobs, but not Bella Greene. Bella is a film stuntwoman. She does all the dangerous things that the main actors don't want to do! She's jumped off a moving train, and she's driven a car into a deep river. She's also climbed tall buildings and held big, poisonous snakes. 'I don't really get scared,' Bella says. 'I just feel very excited when I'm going to do something dangerous. I'm also careful. I only take risks if they're necessary.'

Bella has had a lot of injuries in her job. She's broken one of her arms, and she's sprained her shoulder four times. She's also burnt her hands twice, when she ran into a burning building for an action film. But she doesn't mind the injuries, because she loves her job. 'It's much more interesting than working in an office!' she says.
