

Unit Quiz 4B

- Gabriel: Hey guys, did you watch that talent competition on TV last night?
- Lisa: No, I didn't. I hate those programs. I never watch them. I feel sorry for the kids who go on them and think they'll become famous. Most of them want to be performers or entertainers, but they never will be. It's sad.
- Alex: Hey Lisa, isn't that a little negative? I know what you mean, but some people do become famous. They might be a comedian, a designer, or even a filmmaker.
- Gabriel: Well, I enjoy the show. When I'm older, I want to be a performer of some sort. It must be great to show your talents on stage in front of an audience. I might take singing classes because I love music.
- Alex: I thought you wanted to be a DJ.
- Gabriel: Yes, I still like the idea, but I think that's something I could do along with my real job.
- Lisa: A DJ? I didn't know you wanted to do that. It must be difficult to be a famous DJ, though. If you are very talented you could go viral and be an overnight success. Imagine if that was you, Gabriel! It can't be an easy job, though.
- Alex: True, but you want to be a doctor, don't you? That can't be an easy job either. What are you laughing at? The idea of you being a doctor?
- Lisa: No! I just remembered something I saw last week. It was a young boy who sang on the show. He was so bad, it was funny.
- Gabriel: Ah-ha!! So, you DO watch the show!
