

EVOLVE LEVEL 6, MID-TERM 7-12 TEST A

LISTENING 1

- Noah Hi, Ashley. Can you help me for a moment? I'm getting ready to watch the football game. I've got my jersey, my flag, and my horn.
- Ashley Whoa! Don't blare that in my ear!
- Noah Sorry! Anyway, now I'm trying to paint my face but I keep getting frustrated because when I look in the mirror everything is backwards. Could you give me a hand? I'll tell you what to do. It's not too complicated.
- Ashley Sure. What design are you going for?
- Noah I usually focus on my team's colors and have a simple design that reflects those, but I thought it might be a refreshing change to paint something related to the game itself. I had this idea of painting a helmet over my whole face. What do you think?
- Ashley It's an awesome idea! Subtle!
- Noah No, let's be bold. It's not often my team reaches the playoffs. I'm sure the atmosphere at the new stadium is going to be electric. There will be TV cameras there and I want to do something that will stay with me and my friends for a long time.
- Ashley OK. So how should I start?
- Noah Can you paint the number 47 in the middle of my forehead? I want that to be the focus of attention.
- Ashley I thought you would want a T for the first initial of your team. What's the significance of the number 47? Is it your favorite number?
- Noah It's my way of paying tribute to my favorite player, who plays with that number. How's it looking?
- Ashley I don't want to brag, but I think your friends are gonna be blown away by what I've done. It looks like a real helmet! The colors are really vibrant.
- Noah Thanks, Ashley – you're a lifesaver!
