

EVOLVE LEVEL 6, Unit Quiz 6A

- Ethan Hey, Ashley. I'm thinking of organizing a surprise party for Brandon. Has anyone ever thrown you a surprise party?
- Ashley Yeah, just once. My best friend took me shopping, and afterwards we went back to my house. When I opened the door, the lights came on and all my friends jumped out. I had no idea. They had decorated the house, made a birthday cake, and all signed a giant card. I was overwhelmed and started crying. It was a moment I'll always treasure.
- Ethan Have you ever organized one?
- Ashley Not exactly a surprise party ... but when my friend Linda announced she was getting married, we surprised her with a trip. We put a blindfold on her so she couldn't see and giant headphones so she couldn't hear. We took her to the airport. It was so funny. What was difficult was keeping the destination secret because at the airport they kept announcing the flight. Fortunately, Linda was enjoying her music and didn't discover until we arrived in Mexico!
- Ethan Mexico! That must've been a surprise!
- Ashley It was! Fortunately, we packed her suitcase with dresses and a swimsuit, otherwise she might have guessed the destination!
- Ethan I don't think I'm gonna try anything that extreme for Brandon. Do you have any simpler ideas to surprise him?
- Ashley One awesome idea is to rent a projector and get photos from different times of his life. You'll need the help of a family member. You can project the photos on a wall. The guests love looking for their photos, too. Or ... you could make a video with everyone singing or dancing to a song. You must allow plenty of time for whoever is editing the video, but the end result will be amazing.
- Ethan Wow! Great ideas! Thanks a lot!
- Ashley Whatever you do, I'm sure he'll love it!
