Online games – bringing people together

1 _____

Ryan George and four of his good friends Scott, Kesian, Matt and Gerard have something in common: they love playing online games, and an online football game in particular. They often play together, and they message and video call each other, too. They're good friends, but today is the first time Ryan and three of his friends are talking face-to-face – at 28-year-old Ryan's wedding in Wales.

2 _____

Ryan, Scott, Kesian and Matt are all having great fun at the wedding, and they all really want to meet again. They're talking about meeting next year for a concert. They hope that Gerard can meet them, too. Gerard's looking after his new baby today, so he can't be at the wedding.

3 _____

Ryan isn't the only person to invite online friends to his wedding. There are other stories about online friends going to each other's weddings. There are also stories about gamers who travel across a country to visit an online friend in hospital, or online friends from different countries who meet up after ten years or more of playing together.

4 _____

We often imagine online gamers as people sitting alone in their rooms, but online games are a great way to talk to people. They are also important for our health. We start by talking about the game, and later we talk about our life and other things. This makes us feel good.

5 _____

So, how do we make friends online? Well, it's similar to making friends face-to-face. We need to find the right opportunities. First, we need to play the right games so we have a chance to talk to people. Games where we play with others as a team are the best idea, not games where we play alone. Second, we can go to online gaming forums and talk to people about games on there.

4 Read the text again. Complete the sentences with one word or a number from the text.

- 1 Ryan has _____ online gamer friends.
- 2 _____ of Ryan's online friends are at his wedding.
- 3 Ryan is getting married in _____.
- 4 Ryan and his friends plan to meet next year at a _____.
- 5 Gerard isn't at Ryan's wedding because he is with his _____.
- 6 Some people visit their online gamer friends when they're in _____.
- 7 Some online friends travel to other _____ to meet for the first time.
- 8 Online friends can be very good for our _____.
- 9 We can make friends more easily when we play a game in _____ and not on our own.
- 10 We can also look for _____ online and talk to people on there.
