Online games – bringing people together

A

Ryan George and four of his good friends Scott, Kesian, Matt and Gerard love playing online games. They often play together, and message and video call each other. Today is the first time Ryan and three of his friends are talking face-to-face – at 28-year-old Ryan’s wedding in Wales.

B

Ryan, Scott, Kesian and Matt are having fun and they’re talking about meeting next year for a concert. They hope that Gerard can meet them, too. He’s looking after his new baby today, so he can’t be at the wedding.

C

Ryan isn’t the only person to invite online friends to his wedding.

Some gamers also visit online friends in hospital, or meet up with online friends from different countries after ten years or more of playing together.

D

We often imagine online gamers as people sitting alone in their rooms, but online games are a great way to talk to people. They are also important for our health. We start by talking about the game, and later we talk about our life and other things. This makes us feel good.

E

So, how do we make friends online? First, we need to play the right games so we have a chance to talk to people. Games where we play with others as a team are the best idea. Second, we can go to online gaming forums and talk to people about games on there.

4 Read the text again. Complete the sentences using ONE WORD or A NUMBER from the text.
