Text 1

How to Make a Big Decision

We make decisions every day of our lives. Most of them are not important, but some of them are. When making an important decision, the first thing to do is take your time. Think carefully before you decide.

Make notes of all the advantages and disadvantages of different choices, but don't count them up. There may be more disadvantages but the advantages are perhaps more important. If there are many choices, take some away. This can take some stress away, too.

Talk to someone about the decision. When you say your ideas out loud, it can help you to decide what you want to do. Ask the person for advice and listen to what they say. If you really can't decide yourself, ask that person to make the decision for you. That can make things easier.

Finally, if you make a decision and later it's not the best one, don't worry. Life will continue and you can make a change.

Text 2

How to Make a Big Decision

We make decisions every day, like what food to eat or clothes to wear. But occasionally we have to decide important things like which university to go to. The first thing to do is give yourself plenty of time to make the decision.

Then, think of the choices and write a list of the advantages and the disadvantages of each choice. Don't make your decision just because the advantages are higher in number. It's possible that they are less important than the disadvantages.

Next, listen to your feelings. They can often tell you what you want to do. It's good to use your head, but use your heart, too. If you decide and then someone tells you you're wrong, you don't have to listen to them. It's your decision, not theirs. You know what's best for you, although you can ask someone to make the decision for you if you really can't decide.

Finally, don't worry about making a mistake. Many people fail to make a decision because they're afraid of making the wrong one. No decision is perfect. You can live with the decision you make.

4 Read the texts again. Are the statements True (T) or False (F)?

- 1 Most decisions are not important. T / F
- 2 The number of advantages and disadvantages are important. T / F
- 3 Having a few choices is less stressful than having a lot of choices. T / F
- 4 Speaking to someone about the decision is a bad idea. T / F
- 5 Use only your head to make decisions. T / F
- 6 It's OK to ask somebody else to decide for you. T / F
- 7 Some people worry so much that they don't make any decision. T / F
- 8 There's always one correct decision. T / F
