Learning New Things

We went out on the streets and asked five people what they would like to learn. Here are their replies ...

Ruth: I started to learn Chinese, but it was quite difficult. So, I think I would like to learn an easier language. I often go to Mexico on holiday, so maybe Spanish is a good option. I'd love to be able to speak more than one language.

William: I am learning to drive at the moment! I am really excited about it. My test is next week. I'd love to get a car, but I need more money. I think I need to get a job. I'd love to work with animals, so I plan to ask for a job at the zoo. I don't really want to learn any other things right now.

Karl: At the moment, I am studying at university. I'm studying languages, but I would like a hobby, too. I'd like to take up a new sport. I'd like to join a football team because I can exercise and also make new friends.

Preeti: I can cook quite well, but I would like to learn how to cook food from different countries. I live in England, but my parents are from India. My mother taught me many dishes but I'd like to learn something new – maybe Italian or Greek. I would like to learn and surprise my mother with a tasty new dish! There are evening classes in different types of food from around the world. I'd like to take one.

Yuko: I take lots of pictures all the time and I put them on my Instagram. I love pictures of beaches and forests but I would love to paint what I see, not just take a picture of it. I think that would be a really great skill and relaxing, too!
