Example answer:

Hi Frida,

I hope all's well with you. I wanted to tell you about something that happened to me the other day.

I was going home from work when I saw a dog that was on its own. It was sitting down next to a bench in the park and it was raining so the dog was cold and wet. I asked a few people, but no one knew whose dog it was. I didn't want to leave it there so I took it home with me.

When I got home, I called the police station to report it. They asked me if I was happy to look after the dog until they found out whose it was. I said I didn't mind, so now I've got this little visitor in my house! To be honest, it's a lovely dog. It's well-behaved and it doesn't make a mess. It's nice having the company, so I hope that no one else wants it back.

Anyway, I wanted to tell you because I know you're fond of animals.

Lots of love,

Veronica

Ex 3

Example answer:

In this picture, there are a group of people sitting at a dinner table in someone's house. There's lots of food and drink on the table and I can see five people. I think they've finished their meal because no one is eating. Four of the guests are using their phones while one guest looks quite fed up. She's sitting at the end of the table. One woman seems to be making a call while the men seem to be reading something on their phones. I guess that's why the woman is unhappy. It's supposed to be a social occasion, but nobody is talking.
