Interesting sports facts

1 The Olympics

• The first modern Olympics was in Greece in 1896. The first Olympic Games with women were in Paris in 1900, and in the 2012 Games in London women played every sport for the first time.

• London is the only city to have the Olympic Games three times – in 1908, 1948 and 2012.

2 Basketball players

• Basketball players used a football until 1929. After that, the ball was the basketball we know today. The ball was brown, but after 1958 it was orange because it's easier to see.

• In the winter of 1891, James Naismith and his students were the first people to play basketball. They were bored and wanted to go outside, but the weather was bad. They played inside and had a lot of fun.

3 Skiing

• A lot of people can ski at about 15 km/h, but Simone Origone can ski faster than a car. In 2006, he skied down a mountain at 250 km/h. Cars can't usually go faster than 180 km/h.

• In 2015, the skier Anders Fannemel jumped 251.5 metres. This was the best ski jump in the world, and longer than two football pitches! His dream is to jump 300 metres one day.
