Are these real sports or just unusual games?

We spoke to three teenagers. They play unusual sports and we asked them: are these real sports or just unusual games?

Burcu – Quidditch

Quidditch is a sort of mix between basketball and rugby. So how do you play it? You need to get the Quaffle, one of the different types of balls, into one of the three metal circles called 'hoops'. But, at the same time, you have to avoid one of the other balls. I'm a keeper, so my job is to defend the hoops. Our team meets three times a week to practise on the pitch, and we play other teams in competitions. We're playing one next week, in fact. It's a great way to exercise and develop the skills we need to win. And another great thing is boys and girls play it together. So yes, it definitely is a real sport!

Liberty – Disc Golf

I don't know if you could call it a true sport, but I really enjoy it. I love being outside and doing this in my free time. It's similar to golf, but we don't use balls, we use discs. And the aim is to throw the disc into a metal 'basket'. It's a good way to make your arms strong. The thing I like most about it is you can play it anywhere and you don't need other people. Next month we're going on holiday and I'm going to take my kit with me to play there. And I'll probably play it every day!

Mateo – Foot Volley

This is definitely a real sport! People play it professionally here in Brazil and other countries, and they show the matches on TV. It's a lot like beach volleyball, but you can only touch the ball with your feet. I'm part of a team and we train every day after school on the beach. There are different positions, so some play at the back and others play near the net. I like to attack when I play. We warm up by running along the beach and then we practise against each other. If you want to play this sport you'll need to be fit and do a lot of exercise!

- 0 Who thinks his/her activity is a hobby? L
- 1 Who can play his/her activity alone? _____
- 2 Who compares his/her activity to two sports? _____
- 3 Who refers to being close to a net? _____
- 4 Who says it helps part of your body become powerful? _____
- 5 Who says they practise every day? _____
