How to study like a pro

Got an important exam coming up? Finding it difficult to get on and revise? Then use my top study tips to help you!

First, avoid all things which might stop you when possible. ⁰ c I told everyone I was studying then and so not to call, message or email me. That gave me time to focus on the topic of the subject I was studying and nothing else.

Another technique I used was to make notes by hand. The results of a study said that this helps you learn better as it makes you think carefully about the subject. ¹ _____ It's important not to hurry!

The next tip comes from my friend Connor. ² _____ He needed to remember some mountains for a Geography test, so he set them as pictures on his phone background! This is logical because we look at our phone screens a lot during the day.

Research shows that a few days after learning something, we can forget up to half the information. ³ _____ You only need to look over your notes for a few minutes. But this means you won't have to learn everything from the beginning again later!

When you're starting your study time, begin with subjects you feel more confident in.

⁴ _____ Also, it'll help you feel more confident in order to work on the subjects you think are more difficult.

My last tip is to change your clothes when you start and finish studying. ⁵ _____ Why not try it to see how it will help you get on with it.

- a This is a great way to 'warm up' at the start of the session.
- b Writing like this really helps us memorise the information.
- ~~c When I did this, I set a time each day from four to six o'clock.~~
- d He told me about how he used technology to help revise.
- e You can avoid this by reviewing what you've studied afterwards.
- f That way they won't distract you when you need to focus.
- g Wearing different things can help your mind separate work and relaxation time.
